Summary

Maximilian is a Partner in the Regulatory, Public Law & Competition group in our Hamburg office.

He focuses on energy law covering the regulatory aspects and their contractual implementation into commercial contracts. As a regulatory specialist he advises clients on regulatory aspects on an on-going base as well as in all kinds of energy related transactions (M&A and Finance). Maximilian's experience covers conventional energy, renewables and grid related transactions. Furthermore, he regularly represents clients in energy specific litigation and arbitration procedures. Maximilian has significant experience in drafting and negotiating energy related supply and trading contracts (conventional energy, renewable energies).

In addition to his energy related regulatory experience Maximilian is an experienced advisor in the area of environmental law, water protection law and mining law again with a major focus on the energy industry. Maximilian has advised on the permit and licensing procedures of several power plant and renewable energy assets. This advice also covered dealing with environmental claims against granted permits and/or licenses. Finally, Maximilian advises regularly on chemical law aspects in particular with regard to REACH.
