Summary

Rodrigo Berasategui is the partner responsible for the Banking & Finance Group of Watson Farley & Williams Madrid.

Rodrigo has extensive experience in financing renewable energy projects (wind, electric, thermosolar, photovoltaic, and biomass) as well as all types of infrastructure, having advised throughout his career a large number of public and private developers, financial institutions, multilateral institutions, insurers and specialised funds.

Additionally, Rodrigo has had in recent years a growing involvement in the Latin American region, participating in numerous projects in both renewable energy and infrastructure.

Rodrigo joined Watson Farley & Williams in September 2012 from Garrigues. He has over 14 years of professional experience.

International legal directories such as Chambers, Best Lawyers and IFLR1000 include him as a recommended lawyer for Banking & Finance, Project Finance and Energy.
