BIO

LUIS IS COUNSEL IN THE REGULATORY GROUP.

He specialises in regulated sectors, administrative and environmental laws. He has a deep experience in energy and all environmental fields such as waste, contaminated soil, water, industrial emissions, impact assessment, environmental liability, etc. and mainly focuses on energy efficiency and renewable energy.

Luis recently joined WFW from Spanish law firm Garrigues, where, for more than 20 years, he has been advising both local and international financial entities and companies in M&A and financings transactions as well as on public procurements and contentious-administrative processes. He is involved in project development, from early stages to ready-to-build and COD.

Prestigious legal directory Chambers Europe recognises Luis as an environment leading lawyer in Spain, highlighting he “finds the most practical solution focussed on the clients’ needs”.

EXPERIENCE

Advising several of the most important companies in the Spanish energy sector on the acquisition of renewable energy portfolios or assets.

Advising several of the most relevant Financial Entities in the financing and refinancing of renewable assets and portfolios.

Advising several companies on environmental matters in relation to asset acquisitions, i.e. in the food industry, etc.
