

WFW ADVISES SONNEDIX ON ACQUISITION OF 37 MW SPANISH PHOTOVOLTAIC PORTFOLIO

14 JANUARY 2022 • PRESS

Watson Farley & Williams (“WFW”) has advised Sonnedix on the acquisition of a 36.8 MW operational photovoltaic portfolio of 22 regulated projects across Spain, owned by Kobus Partners.

Sonnedix is a global independent solar power producer (IPP) with a proven track record in delivering high performance, cost-competitive solar photovoltaic plants to market. They develop, build, own and operate solar power plants globally with a total capacity of 5+ GW, including a development pipeline of more than 2 GW. Sonnedix continues to expand its global footprint across OECD countries.

The WFW Madrid corporate team that advised Sonnedix on the transaction was led by Madrid Office Head and Partner María Pilar García Guijarro, working closely with Senior Associate Román Pazos and Associates Jaime Salazar and Mar Clavijo.

María Pilar commented: “It was a pleasure to advise Sonnedix once again. We look forward to continuing to help them achieve their goals as they further expand in Spain and internationally. Our specialist renewables team, clear leaders in the Spanish market, advises clients on the whole lifecycle of their investment, consolidating our relationship with key sector players”.
