BIO

DANIELLE IS AN ASSOCIATE IN THE FIRM'S DISPUTE RESOLUTION GROUP.

Danielle is an international dispute resolution lawyer, with a focus on international arbitration. She advises on complex cross-border disputes in a broad range of sectors, including energy, commodities, technology, construction, consumer, and financial services. She has acted as counsel in numerous international arbitrations under various rules, including the ICC, UNCITRAL, SIAC, LCIA, and HKIAC rules. She also has experience in other forms of dispute resolution, including commercial litigation in the English courts, mediation, and investigations.

Danielle is admitted to practice in Singapore and England & Wales. She is also a solicitor advocate with higher rights of audience (civil advocacy) before the English courts.

Before joining Watson Farley & Williams, Danielle practised in a leading international law firm in London, and has also undertaken a client secondment to a global technology company.

EXPERIENCE

Representing a global oil and gas company in an UNCITRAL arbitration (seated in London) against its joint operating partner in an oil and gas block in the Baltics relating to alleged force majeure.
