Biography:

Chris is an Associate in the London Employment group.

Chris advises on contentious and non-contentious employment law for companies and senior executives.

Chris' non-contentious experience includes advice on contracts and consultancy arrangements, policies and handbooks, and transactional corporate support.

His contentious experience includes advising in respect of matters before the Employment Tribunal. Prior to specialising in employment law, Chris worked as a litigator and has extensive litigation experience before the High Court and Court of Appeal.
