Biography:

Gabriela is a senior associate in the Maritime team based in London.

Gabriela is qualified in Brazil, and holds a Masters degree in Energy & Natural Resources Law from Queen Mary University of London.

Gabriela has over seven years' experience in the offshore sector, advising on a variety of cross-border transactions involving vessel construction and financing, including floating units (FPSO/FLNG/FSU/FSRU) and support and drilling vessels. She also has extensive experience in oil & gas related M&A transactions, joint ventures and commercial matters. She has advised on various regulatory matters in Brazil, including vessel reflagging options, validity of foreign ship mortgages, charter authorization and preference of Brazilian-flagged vessels, and other procedures before Brazilian authorities.

She has previously spent five months on secondment to Shell, where she worked in the Midstream and Downstream legal team.

Gabriela is fluent in English and Portuguese.
