Biography:

Marc-Alexandre is a Senior Associate in the Finance group in Paris.

Qualified to practice in both the province of Québec (Canada) and France, he has extensive experience advising not only on the laws of both jurisdictions, but also on English law matters.

Marc-Alexandre advises financial institutions, equity investors, fund and asset managers, export credit agencies, lessors, OEMs and operators on a wide range of cross-border financings and restructurings in the transport sector. His structured finance expertise encompasses the full range of asset classes (including aircraft, ships and rolling stock) and also extends to the areas of business jet, helicopter and engine sale, leasing and financing.

Marc-Alexandre was involved in some of the most high-profile and innovative transactions in the market in recent years, including several ‘first-in-type’ and ‘Deal of the Year’ award-winning transactions.

Marc-Alexandre joined Watson Farley & Williams in 2017 after having worked at other leading international law firms in Europe and Canada. In addition to his native French, he speaks fluent English and Spanish and has a basic understanding of German.
