Biography:

Rob is a Partner in the Dispute Resolution Group.

He specialises in international commercial dispute resolution (particularly arbitration) and advises corporates and multi-nationals across a broad range of industry sectors including energy, infrastructure and international trade.

Rob trained and qualified with the firm in London, then worked out of the Bangkok office from 2007 to 2016.

He is recommended for his expertise advising on oil & gas-related disputes by Legal 500 UK, who reported clients saying he is “an outstanding lawyer” and “adept at managing complex technical disputes with a good eye for the crucial points”.
